

Dr. MUHAMMAD AMJAD SAQIB

Dr. Muhammad Amjad Saqib is a prominent social worker, volunteer and development professional. He graduated from King Edward Medical College, Lahore and completed Masters Degree in Public Administration (MPA) and Hubert H. Humphrey Fellowship, from American University, Washington D.C., USA.

He joined Pakistan Administrative Services (PAS) in 1985 and resigned from civil service in 2003. Since then, besides rendering philanthropic and social services, he has been providing consultancy services to the Asian Development Bank, International Labour Organization, UNICEF, World Bank, and Canadian International Development Agency.

He is the author of four books and is well known columnist and has been writing for Daily Jinnah, Pakistan, Jang and Nawa-i-Waqt. Dr. Saqib is founder and Executive Director of Akhuwat, first ever interest free microfinance programme. President of Pakistan bestowed on him "Sitara-a-Imtiaz", a coveted civil award on 23 March, 2010.

He is a regular guest speaker at Civil Services Academy (CSA), National Institute of Public Administration (NIPA), Lahore University of Management Sciences (LUMS) and many other professional fora. His areas of expertise include poverty alleviation, microfinance, social mobilization and education management.